ANNA'S AWESOME JUGS

These gorgeous vessels are ceramic interpretations of liquid being poured and the cyclic nature of filling up and emptying out, and reference the curvaceous form of a water droplet and the flowing motion of liquid. The free-standing handle is inspired by the sexy lines of a woman's deadly stiletto heel.

Available in bronze, black and white.

'STREETWEAR' BY STEVEN VOGEL

Streetwear is the definitive street fashion bible – a guide to clothes created or inspired by urban living, from key designers around the globe. Hundreds of streetwear designs and photographs provide an encyclopaedic overview of the world of streetwear, offering a unique insider's view of this highly creative field. Writer and curator Steven Vogel uses incisive interviews to look at over forty leading street fashion brands, examining what motivates and inspires the designers and entrepreneurs behind the meteoric rise of street fashion from urban underground to the commercial realm.
